For additional information on how to install/test/migrate your database follow the instructions provided at: Database Migration: "This is a translation of the last version of the Patch for the following versions of ranywhere: ranywhere 1.0 ranywhere 2.0 ranywhere 2.8 Patch for ranywhere 2.8.0 (1.0 and 2.0) In certain situations, the patch is required for installation of the newest version of the database (version 2.8.0). I am trying to migrate my Database to the new version but I am getting the following error: Error at migration: [SQLITE_ERROR] SQL error or missing database file: *unable to open database file, try to delete it and retry [SQLITE_ERROR] What I have done: I have downloaded the latest version of the Database from the link provided above. I have removed the MIGRATE_SQL_FILENAME_EXT from the following: ranywhere/db/migrations/{year}/migrate.sql ranywhere/db/migrations/{year}/migrate.sql.bak I am trying to install the latest version of the database but am still getting the above mentioned error. Any help would be appreciated. Regards, Chad A: Turning my comments into an answer: The error message is not particularly helpful. However, my hypothesis is this: The error occurs because the SQLite database created when ranywhere 2.8 is installed (as part of a large upgrade) is not compatible with ranywhere 2.8. If you do not want to upgrade your database, then you could instead: Restore the database to a backup (as per your instructions, to a location outside of your ranywhere installation). Change the MIGRATE_
